Judge Nancy Whittenburg

....chaired the organization which gave out condoms to 12 and 13 year old Spencer children.

...to this day still profits from selling the beer that often ends up in these young hands.

...now as a District Judge, Whittenburg will also pocket $158,300 this year from taxpayers while ruling over the statutory rape and drunk driving cases that end up in her court, likely in part, as a result of her profitable encouragement of such conduct.

...was never herself even investigated for violating Iowa Code 123.49 in serving alcohol on Sept. 6, 2002, to then-Clay County Attorney Mike Zenor into a drunken daze in her own home, which, minutes later resulted in Zenor's OWI arrest (0.151 blood alcohol content) and later conviction.

With judicial leaders like her, is it any wonder so many children have little respect for authority? It is time to let the kids know we do care and start by throwing out corrupting influences like Whittenburg.

Vote NO on Whittenburg Nov. 6!

The Cameron Arnold Judicial Reform Initiative is a special project of Rescue the Perishing of Ocheyedan, IA. More of a Jefferson/Jacksonian than a Hamiltonian director Paul Dorr has been working since 1988 to educate voters of the encroaching "irresponsibility" (as Andrew Jackson coined it) of the judicial branch of government. One behind-the-scenes supporter of Dorr was Cameron Arnold, a former Assoc. District Judge in this district and past President of the Iowa Judges Association. Arnold was an avid supporter of Dorr's reform initiatives until he passed away in 1998 and to this day Dorr enjoys the endorsement of "Cam's" widow.
